MISSISSIPPI FURNISHING THE SUPPLY

Commission Market Presents Some New Features for the Table, Including Celery All the Year Round.

The most expensive crate of strawberries of the season arrived in Omaha yesterday and the commission merchant receiving it has forwarded his check for $15 to the Van Buren (Ark.) Horticultural association in payment of the same.

The crate was the first consignment of berries from the Van Buren fields for 1901 and came from the fruit farm of S. C. Daniels. The grower will receive $25 for the crate, $10 from the association and $15 from the commission houses. The first crate was not a prepossessing looking lot, the berries arriving in poor shape, some badly molded and the others soft and shapeless.

On the market $2 was asked for the twenty-four quart crate and the commission men will turn their attention to claims and other substitutes. With the passing of the winter season, the spring chicken makes its appearance and a few arrived on the market yesterday morning. There have been no buyers for sale every day in the year, but they have been from the cold storage houses and came to the consumer here and there.

Celery All Around the Year.

For the first time in the history of Omaha celery is to be on the market the entire year. The supply in the hands of local dealers will be sufficient to run until June 1, when the crop of the present year will begin to arrive. Three years ago celery was on the market for four months, but the conditions were unusual. Now the supply is the result of an attempt in that direction which has proven successful.

Today the gourmet will find far fewer celery stalks for four months, and the commission men will turn their attention to claims and other substitutes. With the passing of the winter season, the spring chicken makes its appearance and a few arrived on the market yesterday morning. There have been no buyers for sale every day in the year, but they have been from the cold storage houses and came to the consumer here and there.

Incubators Not a Success.

Speaking of the spring chicken market one of the commission men said: "The attempt to create a market for spring chickens hatched on incubators has been a dismal failure, at least in the western markets. The people expect spring chickens in the spring and there is no sale for them until about May 1. Up to that time all of the demand comes from restaurants, with an occasional order from hotels. These orders can be as easily filled from the cold storage house as from the incubator, as the consumer does not see the bird until it is served. Chickens can be carried over in cold storage cheaper than they can be grown on incubators. As a result of this condition the incubator has not been a revenue producer, as the demand for their product comes at the time the hens are competing with them. Right now the supply is not equal to the demand, as the season has been backward and the young chickens have died in large numbers."

HEADQUARTERS FOR BRICKS

Auditorium to Have an Office for the Sale of the Souvenir Badges.

In a few days the auditorium brick committee will have an office on the ground floor on Farnam street and expects that the new location will increase the sales of the souvenirs. Today J. M. Gillan, who has been placed in charge of the bricks, under direction of Fred Patterson, chairman of the miscellaneous revenue committee, will begin to take invoices of the stock on hand in the several houses to which bricks have been assigned. It is believed that $1,000 or more is now in the hands of the customers, judging from reports received from some of the houses.

The lumber in the hands of the industrial exhibition promoters at the exposition building has been turned over to the musical festival committee and will be used in the preparation of the pavilion. The mercantile pipes in the preparation of the committee have been brought to the Commercial club and will be sold at auction or raffled during the week.

FOR JUNE MUSICAL FESTIVAL

Committee Laying Plans for the Bellstedt Visit on Broad Scale.

The musical festival committee has decided to permit jobbers and retail dealers of the city of Omaha to offer advertising souvenirs of value free at the matinee of Bellstedt's band during the June festival. They are now considering the matter of parking the grounds and are learning the terms offered for the placing of several trees within the inclosure. The responses so far received from the representatives of the fraternal societies show that the plan of the committee is meeting with favor and that the success of many nights is assured from the attendance of the members of the societies.

The committee has deferred the opening of bids for concessions until noon today. The price of children's tickets has been fixed at 15 cents.

England's Army and Navy.

It was recently stated that England's army and navy is inadequate to properly defend herself from a sudden onslaught. England is, in this instance, like the individual who allows himself to creep into a system through a stomach too weak to properly digest the food taken into it. To strengthen the stomach there is nothing better than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It cures dyspepsia, constipation, indigestion, liver and kidney trouble, and as a tonic, is incomparable.

UNION PACIFIC GAINS POINT

Secures New Trial in Damage Suit Before the Federal Court.

The damage suit of Herman Zarnko against the receivers of the Union Pacific Railroad company has been remanded by the United States circuit court of appeals for a new trial. Zarnko sued for $10,000, and a jury in the United States circuit court gave him a judgment for $1,050. The company appealed.

Herman Zarnko, 19 years old, was employed as a laborer in the Swift packing house, South Omaha. On the morning of July 10, 1898, while riding to work on the foot-board of a Union Pacific engine, he was thrown under the wheels and sustained injuries which made necessary the amputation of his right leg.

Indigestion is the direct cause of disease that kills thousands of persons annually. Stop the trouble at the start with a little Prickly Ash Bitters; it strengthens the stomach and aids digestion.

ICEMAN RESUMES HIS SWAY

Doing Business at the Old Stand, with the Same Figures on the Scales.

The iceman is getting busy and the calls for ice from the residence districts is beginning to tax his energies to supply. Yesterday morning two additional wagons were put to work, making the total number four. From now on wagons will be added each morning until the maximum of forty is reached. The coming of the warm weather finds the ice dealer short of a crop, while he has made arrangements for supplying all ordinary demands. Yesterday a trainload of ice was received from St. Louis City to swell the store. This ice will be used for immediate delivery and the crop stored last winter will be held until the northern supply is exhausted. There is no prospect of an ice famine with the local dealer, but the packing houses will be forced to ship a large part of the ice used. The winter was not suitable for the harvest of ice and many of the packers, when this ice could be obtained, delayed the harvest waiting for a heavier freeze, which did not occur. David Talbot was wise in his generation and took what the gods provided, with the result that all of his houses are filled with this ice. The proportion of packing in the houses is greater than it would have been had the ice been thick, and this is the occasion of the importing of ice from the north at this time.

There will be no change in price over last year. When the amount delivered is less than fifty pounds the rate will be 50 cents a hundredweight; where it is between fifty and 100 pounds the rate will be 40 cents; and for 100 pounds and over the rate will be 30 cents.

SALOON CASES ARE SET OVER

Dahlman and Hunziker Plead Not Guilty and Get Their Hearings Postponed.

Fred Dahlman and Frank Hunziker, the South Tenth street saloon keepers who imagined that Mayor Moore's edict closing all saloons on Sunday did not apply to them, appeared in police court yesterday afternoon. Both men pleaded not guilty to the charges preferred against them and Judge Crane postponed the cases until May 14 at 2 p. m. The continuance was made at the request of the defendants' attorney.

The complaint against Hunziker was sworn by Officer O'Brien, who charged that the defendant had sold and given away liquor on the first day of the week contrary to the ordinances of the city. Dahlman was arraigned on two charges, one of carrying concealed weapons and the other for being drunk and disorderly.

ASK AID IN CLEARING BOOKS

Unsuccessful Business Men Apply for Relief from Burden of Debt.

William Otto, formerly a saloon keeper of Seward, Neb., has applied to the United States district court to be declared a bankrupt. His debts amount to $2,721.50, and his assets $450. Mr. Otto avers that his agency is due to the opposition of the churches and church societies of Seward. The following were discharged from bankruptcy: J. A. Fuller & Co., of Omaha; Thomas E. Farrell, Hastings; Henry G. Wernimont, Omaha; James R. C. Field, Beatrice; Jacob Schunk, Blue Hill, and Charles H. Roys, Omaha.

A RAGING, HOWLING FLOOD Washed down a telegraph line which Charles C. Ellis of Lisbon, Ia., had to repair. "Standing waist deep in icy water," he writes, "gave me a terrible cold and cough. It grew worse daily. Finally the best doctors in Oakland, Neb., Sioux City and Omaha said I had consumption and could not live. Then I began using Dr. King's New Discovery and was wholly cured by six bottles." Positively guaranteed for coughs, colds and all throat and lung troubles. For sale by Kuhn & Co. Price, 50c and $1.

AIR-TIGHT SUNDAY CLOSING

Mayor Moore's Proposal to Seal the City Hermetically Hereafter.

WILL BOW TO THE REFORMERS' WISHES

Clamor from Certain Sources for a Puritanical City Will Be Heeded and Everything Will Stop on Sunday.

"Omaha will be a New England village next Sunday. I propose to put the city on a Puritanical basis. There seems to be a sentiment here in favor of a closed town and I intend to give Omaha people a taste of that sort of thing. Mayor Moore remarked yesterday, 'Most of the saloons were shut tight yesterday and the officers tell me that there were but few attempts to break over the order I issued for strict Sunday closing.'

"Next Sunday there will be no newspapers offering papers on the streets. All theaters will close. There will be no base ball games. Clear stores and drug stores will be shut up tight. Everything but hotels and eating houses will be compelled to close and no liquor will be sold anywhere.

"If Omaha people want a shut up town they shall have it. I intend to put town favorites. All places which keep open on Sunday are to fall under the order, and the police will be instructed to see that violators of the Sunday closing laws are prosecuted.

"It has been my purpose to give the city a good administration. Crime has been punished. The city has been orderly and the police regulation has been above reproach, but there seems to be a howl for a different sort of city government. Some Omaha people want to go back to the order of things which was in vogue when Omaha was a village.

"I believe in running a city as the majority of the citizens want it. Until recently there seemed to be little objection to keeping places of amusement open on Sunday. The reformers have expressed a desire to do away with all sorts of Sunday amusements, and their request will be complied with.

"Personally I seldom patronize places of amusement on Sundays, but I do not believe that they should be closed. There are many people who have no opportunity to go to the theaters and ball games on week days. It does not seem right that they should be denied amusements on Sunday, but I am not running Omaha as I think it should be run, but as the citizens want it. I am a public servant and am at the city's command.

"It may be that the people who are crying for a closed town are in a minority. We will shut up things and find out. I propose to find out exactly what sort of an administration is wanted here."
